Saint for today

St. Hugh of Grenoble was known as a reformist for corruption. This weighed heavily on him, but he staunchly defended the church and maintained his strong character. He was also an eloquent speaker. When our lives are confusing and stressful, let us pray to St. Hugh for strength and guidance.

Reflections for this week

By
Ms. Funston

Today is the first day of April. We have had our fun as a school community playing April fool's pranks on each other. April brings us to spring break, and most importantly Easter. This week during our morning prayer we have heard that Jesus talked with the Samaritan woman at the well, cured a man born blind, and raised Lazarus from the dead. Today's reading told us to imitate Jesus, speak the truth, be slow to anger, give to those in need, and to forgive. As we approach Holy Week, let us be ever steadfast in our Lenten practices of prayer, almsgiving, and fasting.

Please remember that April 27th at 6:00 in the gym, Tami Murphy will be presenting on the unintended consequences of the internet. Please plan on attending this informative presentation (no children please) that will enlighten you as a parent. While the internet is a wonderful thing, it can also be a very dangerous territory for our children without guidance and supervision. Students whose parents attend will be given a free dress day and extra recess on Friday, April 29th. I look forward to seeing you there!

ST. PETER CATHOLIC SCHOOL
GYMNASIUM

This parent only seminar will teach what every parent needs to know about the hidden impact of digital exposure on a child's physical and mental development. Topics will include social media, brain development, grooming, human trafficking, safety measures, and "the good, the bad, and the ugly" of popular social media apps.

Tami Murphy has spent the past 26 years advocating for children as an educator, instructional coach, and social media director. She speaks extensively about internet safety, social media responsibility, and adolescent brain development.

On Monday April 11th, students may wear blue jeans and blue shirts in support of autism awareness. It is in this awareness that we provide support and understanding with those individuals that have been diagnosed with autism and their families.

It has become a tradition at St. Peter for the 8th-grade class to perform the Living Stations of the Cross for our school and the community. On Friday, April 8th, the eight graders will perform The Living Stations at 1:30 in the church. We invite you to join us in this beautiful enactment as we do the Stations of the Cross in our school one last time before the Easter break.

The St. Peter Annual Golf Tournament is Saturday, May 14th at the DeBary Golf and Country Club starting at 8:30. Please send out this information to your golfer friends. I will be driving the beer cart! Use the link below to register.
